A: A really common and simply explained approach is to store what you want to do. You might want to read about the dumbest thing I know of. @TortoiseSVN has an interesting answer, something that you can find something in the comments. The answer that I liked the most and that got accepted is this one A: What you want is "Diff" in sql: SELECT * FROM Table1 EXCEPT SELECT * FROM Table2 Like this you will get the difference between both tables. Also be aware that EXCEPT will drop all rows in the 1st table if they 6d1f23a050
