HP USB Disk Storage Format Tool Incl Product Key Download

Windows users who have purchased a new HP Drive Key or DiskOnKey USB flash drive or any other USB storage device have surely noticed that, when connected to a Windows computer, it does not seem to appear as a valid storage device. This is quite a nuisance, especially if users want to add a disk drive to a RAID array or to keep things easy when doing a backup. HP USB Disk Storage Format Tool is a tiny freeware utility that can be used to format USB flash drives that do not appear as storage devices in Windows. This software is especially convenient if the device in question is a new HP Drive Key or DiskOnKey USB flash drive, as well as for other USB storage devices. Windows users surely know by now that there is always more than a single solution to each computer issue, be it software-related or hardware. The same applies when it comes to formatting a disk, as one can rely on the tool integrated in Windows or on a dedicated third-party app. Easy to deploy and put to good use HP USB Disk Storage Format Tool is a tiny freeware utility which has been designed for the HP Drive Key or DiskOnKey USB devices. Installing it does not represent a problem whatsoever, since it is very compact and it can be run out-of-the-box, in other words no installation is actually required. The interface of HP USB Disk Storage Format Tool resembles the look of the Windows-integrated utility, thus making it easy for both beginners and experienced individuals to quickly get the hang of things. Choose from several formatting options Users simply need to specify the device they wish to format, select the file system and assign the volume a label, then optionally choose quick format or enable compression. One also has the possibility of creating a DOS start-up disk, by either using the internal MS-DOS system files, or the ones located at a specific path. Quick selection of the drive to process One of the differences between HP USB Disk Storage Format Tool and the regular formatting tool found in Windows is the fact that this third-party freeware allows users to select USB drives, while the Windows version does not provide this option. Moreover, unlike this tiny utility, the Windows tool does not offer a NTFS volume label for format; the freeware in discussion also allows users to create a FAT32 volume which is larger than 32GB. In addition, HP USB Disk Storage Format Tool enables users to rename all their USB flash drives in any way they want.
